As a fair maid - en wear - ing a crown of ol - - - ives, the com - pas - sion - ate grace of the Mer - ci - ful ap - peared to you, most wor - - thy, lead - ing you to di - vine mer - cy.

Like an an - gel seat - ed on a priest - ly throne, you ad - min - is - tered the de - crees of God, O glo - ri - ous fa - ther John, of - fer - ing di - vine sac - ri - fic - es of peace to the All - com - pas - sion - ate.

O fa - ther, by ma - ny acts of com - pas - - sion, you served the com - pas - sion - ate Lord, who in his pit - y be - came poor in the flesh, you helped the poor, and gath - ered to - geth - er strang - ers and home - less, so ful - fill - ing the di - vine com - mands.

O Lord, who a - lone love man - kind, you made your dwell - ing in the bod - y with - in the Vir - - gin, and ap - peared to hu - mans as it was fit - ting for them to see you; and showed her to be true

Moth - er of God, the help of the faith - ful.
